

I really like the word liferal, it embraces wonderful thoughts of caring and sharing, and taking the time to appreciate relationships. I will certainly add it to my vocabulary.

However, I find that at this moment when I am trying to get my living wakes celebrations into the public psyche, I need to keep my advertising using the term 'living wakes' as people who know nothing of these celebrations are easily distracted into shrugging off the idea of taking the time to spend a special day with family and friends and using that time to pass on morals, life lessons learned and hopes for peoples futures. So I must make it as easy as possible to encourage them to hold a life celebration.

Once my celebrations gain more popularity I would honourably use your word liferal as I think it is wonderful. I hope that you obtain your goal and I will endeavour to help you by spreading the word.
